Mission Statement

Live. Learn. Lead.

“in Whom are hidden all the treasures of wisdom and knowledge”

Colossians 2:3

“in Him dwells all the fullness of the Godhead bodily”

Colossians 2:9

“...you are complete in Him...”

Colossians 2:10

The above scriptures give the secret to sufficiency, satisfaction, and security within the sacred. It handles the problem of importance, direction, and contentment. It generates the pursuit of discovery and desire for more within the truth of the incarnation of Almighty God. Breathtaking, mind challenging, and faith energizing to say the least... Jesus is enough! The apostle Peter powerfully said that “...His divine power has given to us all things that pertain to life and godliness, through the knowledge of Him who called us...” II Peter 1:3

This captures the essence of the mission embraced by Trinity College. True equipping flows from going deep with Jesus, listening to His Word, and following His desires and teachings. He is “the Truth” and is completely “Trustworthy.” He will never be a disappointment to you throughout your life and ministry. What a Savior! What a Shepherd! What a Lord!

Lasting treasure is found in Him and Him alone. Cultivate a growing and deepening relationship with Him. Use all the tools and knowledge you have achieved to follow the Lord Jesus with all your heart, mind, and soul. Secrets will be revealed, wisdom will be achieved, and power will be experienced. The “blessability” will be present in your talk and walk giving you a fruitful ministry. Intimacy with God plus integrity with people will always generate godly influence. Real joy will prevail and the abundance of life will be yours. John Piper once wrote: “No matter which way the market is moving, God is always better than gold.” He is the true “Treasure” of our lives now and forever!

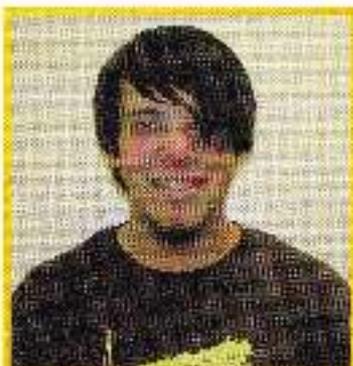

— President O'Farrell

Dr. Cox has been the inspiration for me to pursue a career in counseling. Working and learning under him has been an honor that I will never forget.
 -- Jessica Sawyer

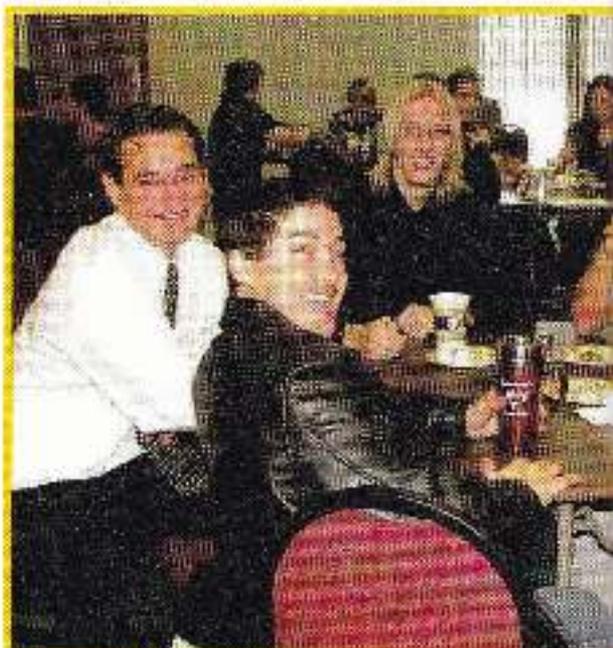

I am excited to be part of the counseling program because what Dr. Cox has taught me so far has been priceless. With the many classes ahead of me I know I have plenty of time to grow and learn. He has pushed me to try hard by what he says in class and I know that at just about any moment of the day he is there for whoever needs him.
 Chal Currey

Dr. Cox has been instrumental in training and equipping me for where God is leading me in life and ministry. I would like to thank Dr. Cox for spending the time and energy to pour himself into his students it has been life changing.
 -- Devon Dougherty

Dr. Cox has been such an inspiration to my life. He taught me and has shown me the meaning of counseling. I respect his dedication to teaching and I appreciate his encouragement through the years. He has been a professor, counselor, and friend. Thanks to him I have become a better listener, speaker, and counselor.
 Mary Farlan

Loving Couple
 Dr. Cox and his wife Sharon enjoy a moment while on the dinner cruise. Both enjoy spending time around the students of Trinity.

Fellowship

Dr. Cox has always enjoyed getting to know the new students on campus. Here he shares a meal with members of the class of 2009.

Servant

Dr. Cox is always one of the first faculty members to volunteer to serve dinner for the special holiday meals at Trinity.

Inauguration

Dr. Cox served as the faculty representative on the presidential search committee this year and spoke on behalf of them during the inauguration

Dedication

Faithfully serving Trinity College

Trinity College has benefited in numerous ways from the ministry of Dr. Dennis Cox. Dr. Cox first began teaching at Trinity in 1984 and has since become one of the most loved professors on campus. His life has shifted many times bringing him to various stages in his ministerial life and he has ended up in the classrooms of Trinity College of Florida. Dr. Cox has been of great benefit to all of the students he comes into contact with, especially those studying in the counseling major. He always has the time to sit and talk with students about anything ranging from classwork to their personal issues. He has truly integrated his professional life of counseling with his career as a college professor. He brings many life experiences into the classroom that help his students to understand each subject more clearly. After 22 years of teaching at Trinity, he continues to enjoy each and every classroom of students he comes into contact with every year. Dr. Cox is truly an example to all of the students, faculty and staff of what it means to be a man of God. He has successfully spent his life in the service of the Lord and we here at Trinity hope that he will remain for many more years. A special thank you goes out to Dr. Cox for being the personification of what it means to cultivate one's life into a lasting treasure able to be used for the glory of God.

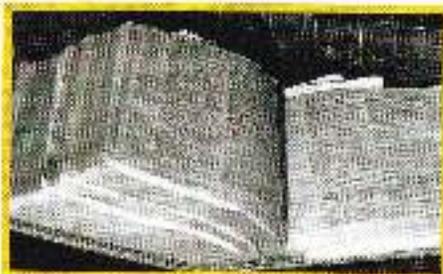

Cultivating a Lasting Treasure

Michelle Notardonato, Brett Vahue, Scott Keppel, Ian Grier, Ricardo Stoner, Stu Price, Dave Gasper, Eric Johnson, Alex Tawney, Anna McKampson, Katie Hallberg, Jenica Overholt, David Preiser, Andrew Jaenichen, Jennifer Pearl, Curtis Barr, Drew Pressoir, Chad Corey, Staci Bahr, Kyle Morris, Joe Mendoza, Amanda Terry, Sarah Klingemann, Naomi Rine, Sarah Chandler, and Dangelo Gomes.

These students received scholarships for the upcoming school year.

These scholarships will aid in the process of cultivating their lives into a lasting treasure.

The process of cultivation is a lengthy one. A garden or crop cannot grow overnight, neither can a student reach spiritual maturity in a few days or weeks. However, as believers in an almighty God, cultivation is our daily desire. We strive as students to enter each day seeking to please the Lord with our words and our actions. In the world's eyes a treasure can be anything from time to a priceless diamond. Students at Trinity seek a different treasure. This treasure lies deep within our hearts and is of an eternal nature. What we do, how we act, and the words we speak all influence our treasure. Our life itself, used to bring glory to God, is a lasting treasure. Through cultivation we will learn, grow, and change. This year has brought trials and blessings, both of which have taught us the importance of striving to be diamonds in a rough world. We truly seek to cultivate our lives into lasting treasures able to be used for the magnificent glory of God.

People

If only five words were allowed to describe every person on the campus of Trinity College, these words would have to be used: "saved by grace through faith." Everyone, either student or staff member, is so different from one another yet we all share the same bond in Jesus Christ. At Trinity both the staff and the students work together to further the kingdom of Christ and it is through the relationships and bonds that have been built that each individual can seek to cultivate their life into a lasting treasure able to be used for the glory of God.

Business Administration

"There are no ordinary people. You have never lived in a more vital atmosphere."

Throughout the past four years, I have changed a lot and grown as a person. There have been many ups and downs but the knowledge I have gained at Trinity has helped to define my life. I am grateful to all the people who have influenced my life and I hope that I can have the same impact on my future students.

Stephen G. Baker

Biblical Studies

"The more you study, the greater than you are."

My time at Trinity has been a great blessing in my life. For the last two years, through the study of the Bible, and through examples of people who have lived well, we have all grown tremendously. If I were not at Trinity, I would not have had the privilege of learning or coming to know people whose passion and commitment have energized me. I have learned and benefited to the fullest from the challenges and guidance I have received from the individuals who have presented the Bible. I hope I will never forget my time here. Through the Word and other believers, I have learned how to better make my life follow Christ. Matthew 16:26

Amanda M. Patton

Accounting

"The more a set talents and the more an earnest pursuit of them."

My last year of college has certainly been full of adventures and challenges. One of the things that every situation has God has brought into my life while attending Trinity has helped me grow closer to Him and more capable of active participation in ministry. I will leave Trinity with a sense of fulfillment and joy because I know that God made me here for a reason and that He has been working consistently in my life. I thank Trinity for giving me a new spirit for life for both here and back home. We have been through trials and we will be renewed and for the rest of my life. Philippians 1:3

Health Services

"I thought the knots I learned would be a lot of fun, but then I found out."

The more I learn about a thing, the more I love it. For me, that is learning and collecting all the little things that are interesting in the lives of other people. As I learned more about God through the classes here at Trinity, I have more joy through casual conversations with friends. I began to realize that Christianity is so much more than just a religion to be followed. It is a lifestyle because of this, I have a more fun and giving passion for God and His Word and could imagine doing nothing less than living the rest of my life in a demonstration of love and joy. I hope others about the amazing God I love.

One of the great things a young person looks forward to when shipping off to college is student life activities. These activities can range from days at the local beach to community outreach to formal dinner cruises. The goal of Student Life is to minister to the whole student body as they minister, work, and play. It helps students remember that God expects faithfulness to Him in every area of their lives. God desires that we bring glory to Him by cultivating our lives into lasting treasures.

New Student Orientation

Starting the Year Off Right

New Student Orientation was once again a success! Trinity's faculty, staff, Resident Advisors, Student Government, and upperclassmen took the time to make the beginning of a new semester a wonderful experience for the incoming class. The new students took a few days before classes began to be informed about college life and academics. The Class of 2008 began their journey by making friends, kneeboarding, and bowling. New Student Orientation prepares students for the next four years by challenging them academically and spiritually and by exhorting them to cultivate their lasting treasure for Christ.

Imitators

Ephesians 5:1

The Imitators drama team had a wonderful year of ministry, with performances, fundraisers, evangelism, and fellowship. The drama team's purpose is to imitate Christ in everything they do. The Imitators got to experience the Lord's working in their individual lives, as well as in their team as a whole. They got to see people come to know God as their personal Lord and Savior, and they were able to see people commit their lives to serving Christ. As Imitators, it is their goal to use dramas and testimonies to impact the world around them.

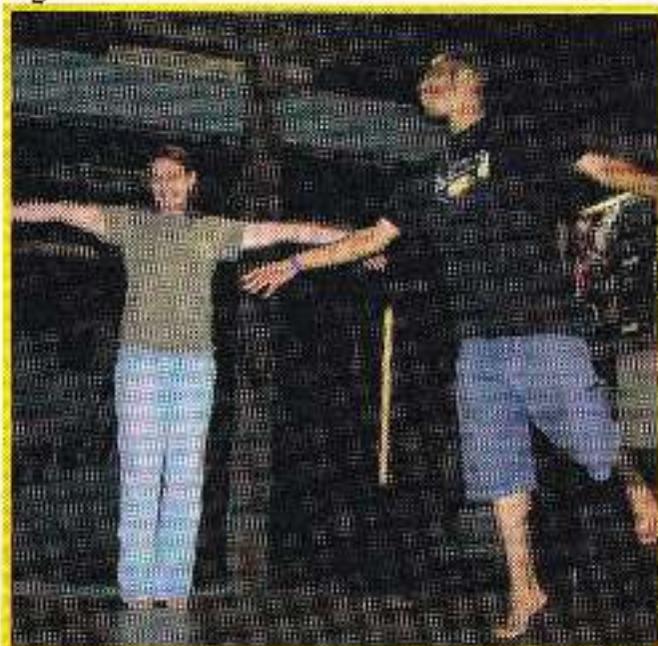

Fall Training

The team gathers together for the first time for a night full of fellowship and learning dramas to perform throughout the year.

I think I can...

Kelly Kennedy and Mike Daniel became pretty butterflies while doing improv during training night.

We are a family

Jon Robinson and Alex Tawney hug Mrs. Truman and thank her for housing them in the mission trip to North Carolina.

Hardcore
The boys of the "Tator Team" try their hardest not to let anyone know they are warm and fuzzy on the inside.

Servanthood

Justin Rood takes time away from practice to help set up for the Missions Banquet. The banquet was also this team's first performance.

Don't give in!
Amanda Phillips dressed as a demon tries to lure Sara Savory into a life of sin.

Day at the Park

The team gathers once again, this time in North Carolina, the destination of their spring missions trip.

Hugs
Sarah Chandler, Kelly Kennedy, and Naomi Rine enjoy themselves during the Imitator training night.

Student Government

Ministering to the Students.

SGA exists to sponsor events that provide opportunities for fun and fellowship. SGA is also the voice of the students to the Administration. Through these functions, a strong community is developed campus wide. Thanks SGA for your great leadership.

SGA President
Jenny Espinoza

Flag Football

Sometimes a little exercise relieves the stress of homework. SGA sponsored a flag football game for students to take out their aggression.

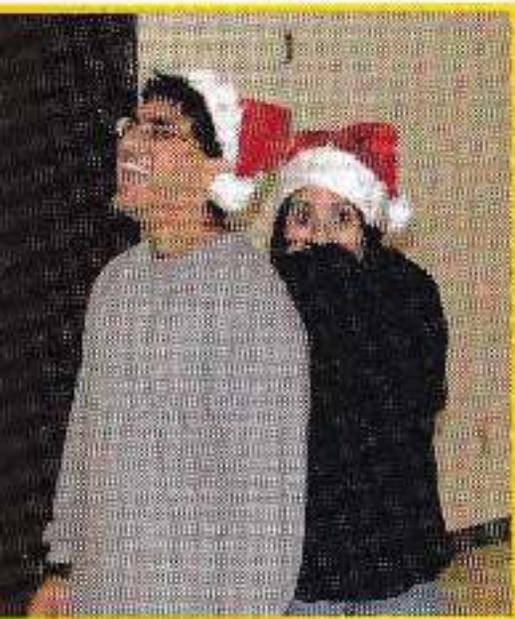

Concentrate!

Eric Jaramillo enjoys a day at the beach. Hold on tight!

Just and Leg! Elf

Norman Montgomery carries Duane Bagley as they decorate the campus for Christmas.

Ho Ho Ho...

Robert Persaud laughs at a comment Mary Farfan is now trying to keep secret.

Thumbs Up!

Eric Johnson proves that he has incredible ice skating skills.

It's Cold!

Robert Persaud, Staci Bahr, and Sara Savory drink lots of hot chocolate to keep warm at the Christmas Concert.

Winter Wonderland

The Trinity College Chorus warms up before presenting their Christmas Concert in the Park.

Santa Baby

Chris Shope, Mary Farfan, and Eric Johnson stop for a quick picture before getting back to work.

Basketball

Build and Rebuild

Trinity College is excited to participate in intercollegiate competition in men's basketball. We are currently members of the National Christian College Athletics Association (NCCAA). Our young team continues to improve from year to year and we are looking forward to next year.

We also have a team that is playing in one of the local church leagues. Joe Alotta, a graduating senior, coaches it. Joe and the players are working hard to put together a winning season. This team is used as a ministry to the community.

Just Hit the "J"
Valentino Paul receives the pass, he squares up, pulls the trigger...and it's good!

Free Throws

If they're "free," why do they still have to shoot them? Rob Dodd gets lined up at Trinity's home court located at Suncoast Baptist Church.

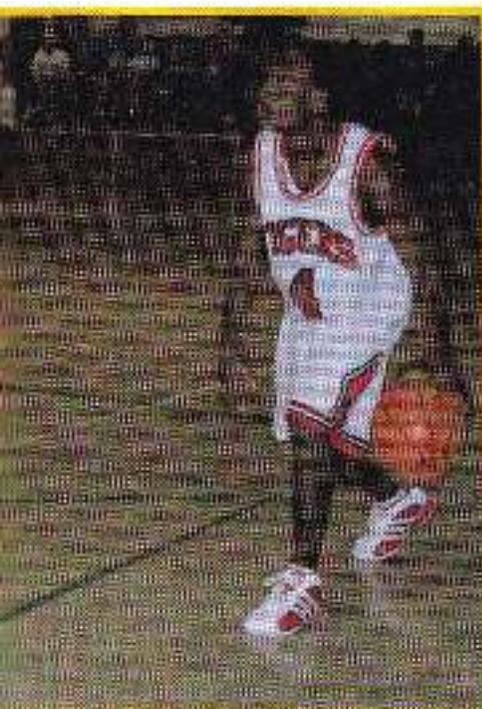

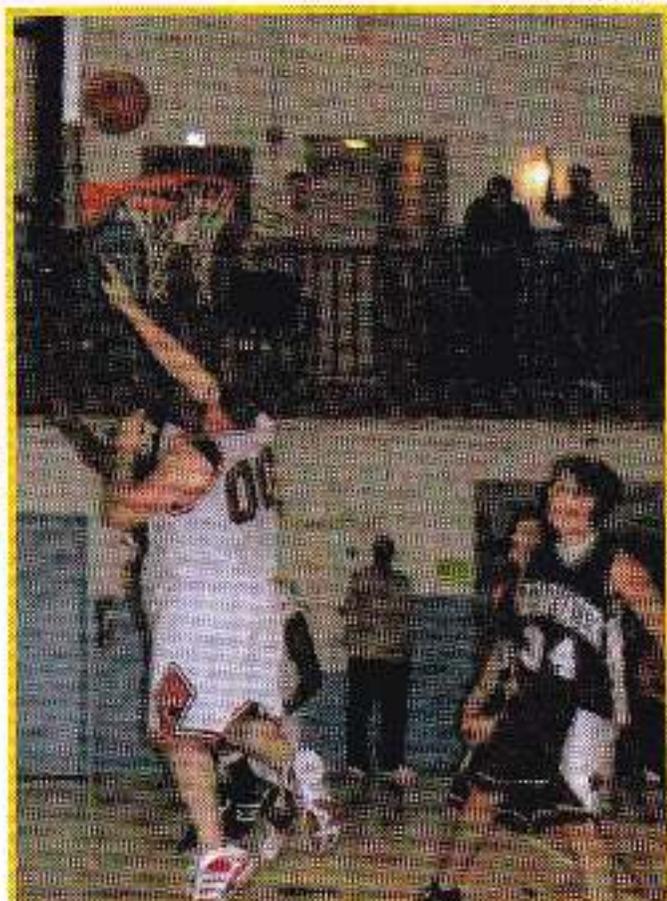

TIGERS

Thrown Down
Markman McClenton goes up for the two-handed jam and slams it down.

Heads up!
Jason McCue slams the ball off the glass, keeping Trinity in the game until the very end.

Defense? Please...
A poor little guard from Clearwater Christian is about to be taken to school by Maurice.

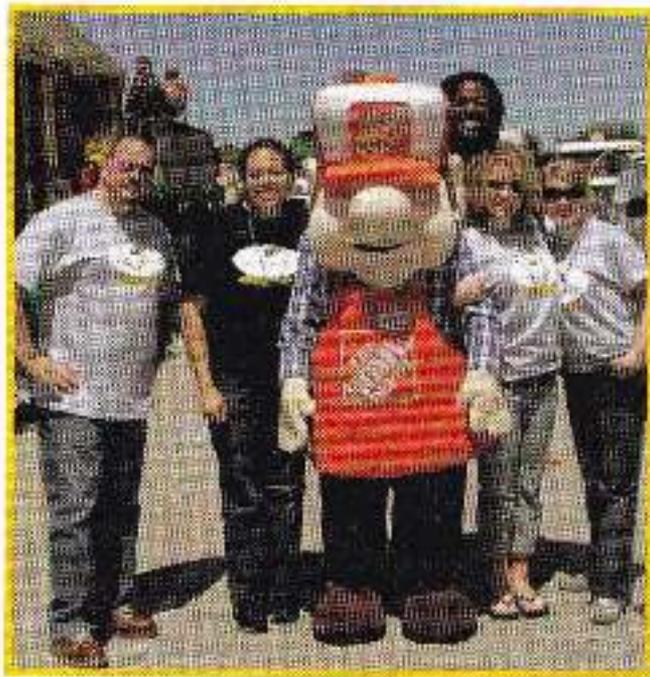

Basketball Team
Matthew Stephenson, Jason McCue, Robert Dodd, Michael Haskins, Valentino Paul, Wilbur Chaney, Robert Parker, Maurice Collins, Enrique Miranda, Vincent Chance, and Markman, McClenton

Crazy Kids
Chris Shope and Kelli Nichols enjoy time with their youth group. These teens really looked up to their leaders.

Boys will be Boys
Many Trinity students choose youth groups as their Christian Service. Robert Persaud was one of many Trinity students who chose youth groups as their Christian Service.

Chasco Fiesta
Curtis Barr, Sara Savory, Norman Montgomery, and Anna Rouse hang out with the Home Depot mascot after the parade.

Grace Camp
Dave Booth
"Super Counselor!"

Trinity Outreach

Cultivating our Community

This year the surrounding communities felt the impact of the the students in a variety of ways. No matter the type of service being done it was evident week after week that the students of Trinity College served with joy.

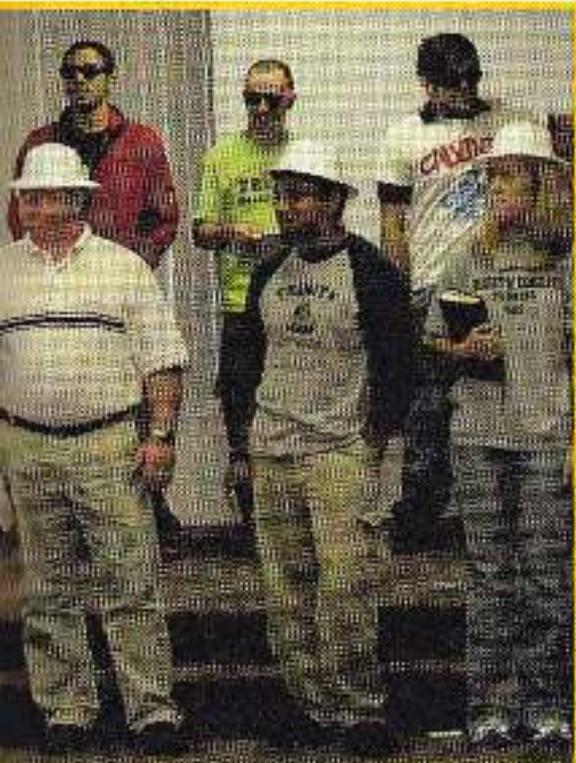

Clowning Around

Sarah Manning shows that students aren't the only ones involved in ministry. She takes the time to make kids smile whenever she can.

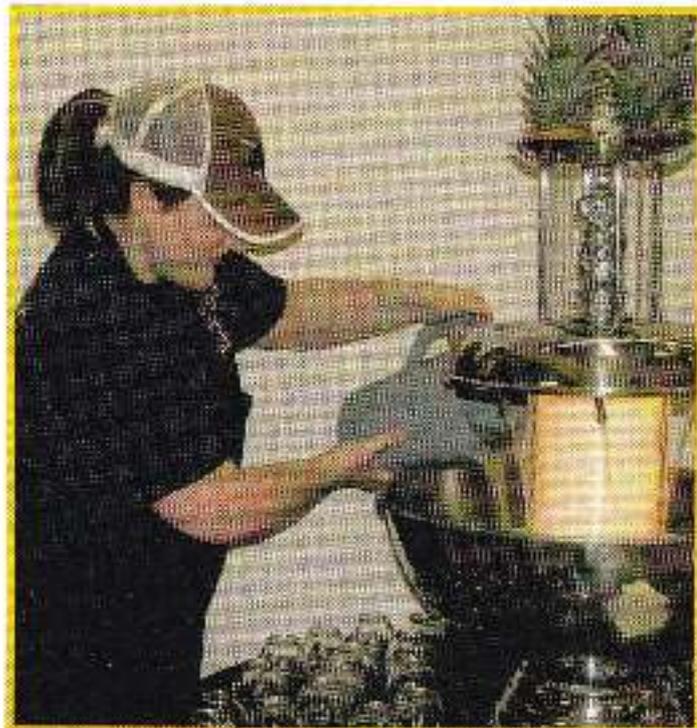

Represent

These students helped spread the name of Trinity College.

Into the World

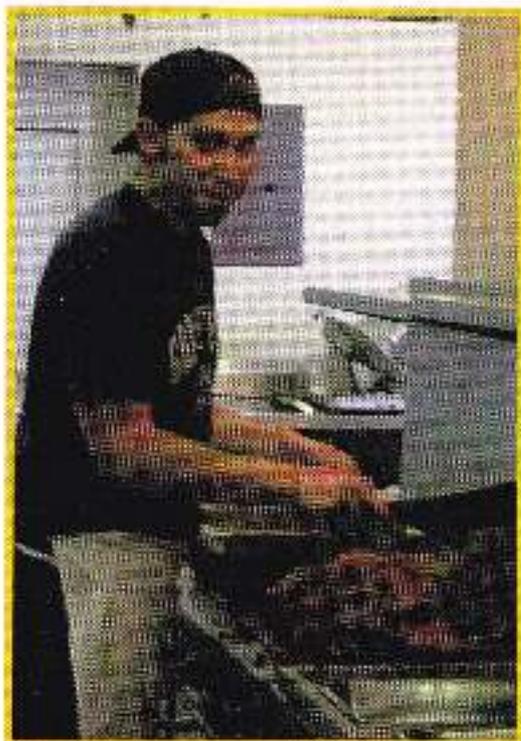

During chapel, these students find out just how many people it will take to reach the world with the Gospel of Christ.

Trinity Quest Office
Shawnette Brown helps each Quest student get into the program with as little stress as possible.

Pour that Punch

Do Not Touch!
Dave Booth takes food preparation seriously.
Don't touch the hot fryer!

Looks Questionable
Sara Savory adds the secret ingredient (the secret's in the sauce!)

Calls to Make
Sarah Chandler enjoys calling prospective students.

Coffee Please
Andrew Leatherman recommends the blend of the day.

Flip that Pancake
Even faculty take part. Dean Lanpher and Joel Schmidt help prepare for the Unmidnight Breakfast.

Jobs

Whistle While you Work

From collecting garbage to cleaning dishes to office work to preparing food, jobs are everywhere you look on the Trinity campus. On-campus jobs provide students the opportunity to serve God by serving others. Some students use skills they have previously acquired, while others start from scratch and learn as they go. Some lessons learned are teamwork and a good work ethic. No job is less important than another and with everyone working together, the college runs very smoothly.

A Ring by Spring

...Or your money back!

Trinity friendships often blossom into Trinity engagements. This year, the number of students taking this leap was astounding! For these, it has been a year full of excitement, happiness, and joy as they plan their future's together. It is the Lord who will help them develop a strong lasting relationship for the rest of their lives and it is through them that the Lord will communicate to the world that this love for one another surpasses the world's idea of love.

At Last

Devon and Natalie Dougherty tied the knot in December during Christmas break.

Wives, submit to your husbands as to the Lord, for the husband is the head of the wife as Christ is the head of the church, his body, of which he is the Savior. Now as the church submits to Christ, so also wives should submit to their husbands in everything. Husbands, love your wives, just as Christ loved the church and gave himself up for her to make her holy, cleansing her by washing with water through the word, and to present her to himself as a radiant church, without stain or wrinkle or any other blemish, but holy and blameless.

Ephesians 5:22-27

With this Ring
Jon Robinson kneels to ask Jessica Singer to marry him.

Trinity Academics

Pebbles are polished and Diamonds are brightened...

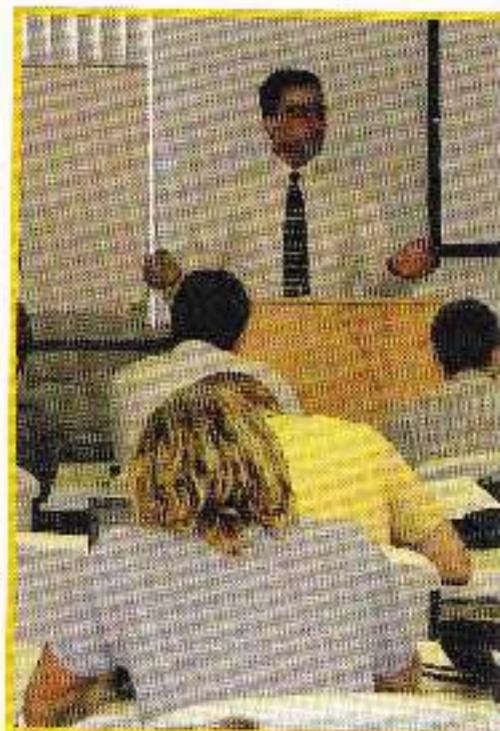

The academic programs of Trinity College are designed to prepare students for effective Christian ministry. To accomplish this, the school seeks to prepare men and women for full-time Christian ministry, for bivocational Christian ministry, for ministry support or para-church staff positions, for further preparation through graduate studies, and for effective Christian living through Biblical and theological instruction. The faculty and staff are always available to the students whether it is for academic concerns or personal growth opportunities. What makes students attending Trinity thrive is not simply that they are being taught but that they are also learning by doing on an everyday basis.

Work and Some Play
Professor Strayer gives amazing insight on a composition that will save the souls of some of these students.

First Semester Spirit Week

We got spirit, yes we do!

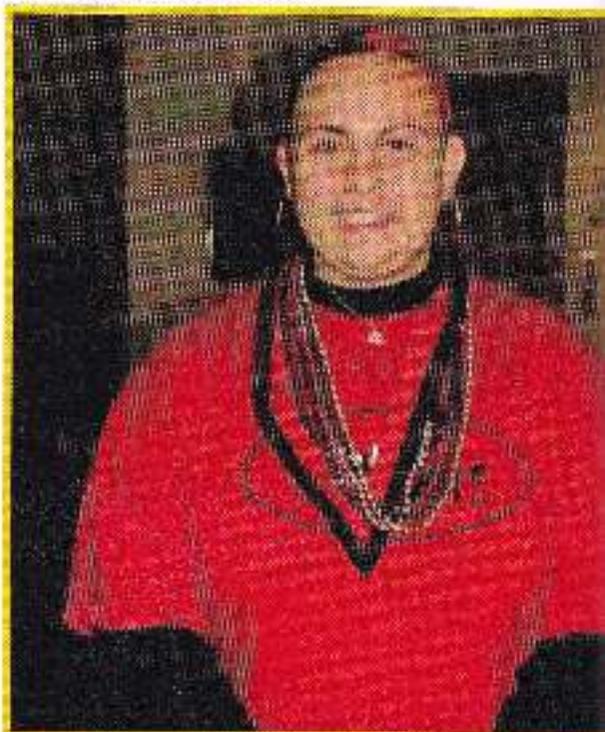

Spirit week is a time for students to get out of character and be the superhero they always wanted to be!

Maybe that nerd dwelling just beneath the surface, or the celebrity that the paparazzi love to harass is the personality that is hiding within each student. We also get to show off our school spirit by decorating ourselves with our smashing school colors!

During this week the student body looks so... so... well... strange! But it is a great time of fellowship and a little bit of friendly competition. Every year the students vote on who was the best dressed for the week and the winners receive fabulous prizes. This activity only happens once a semester and simply cannot be missed!

Go Tigers!

Apparently all of the Tiger suits were at the dry cleaners. Mary Farfan had to settle for a Ram costume in order to support her school.

Power Puff Girls

Jenny Espinoza, Naphtili Simpson, and Angie Confalone prepare to save the day and to get their picture taken during Superhero Day.

The Revenge of the Nerds

This group of students expressed their love for academia as well as their love for a style not typically found in the halls of Trinity College.

A Second Go-Round for Spirit Week

We got spirit how 'bout you?

What would you do if you walked into your classroom on Tuesday morning and all of your closest friends have aged dramatically? No need to panic! You would only have to remind yourself that it's spirit week again! Just as fall is blessed with a time of an oddly dressed student body, so is the spring!

Trinity Graduation

Polished and Ready to Go!

Congratulations class of 2006! For many of these seniors, education is not over yet. For some, serving in the ministry is right around the corner. As the class of 2006, they leave a legacy of great servanthood, leadership, and character. They have had rough days but the great days have over exceeded. As Freshman they came ready to delve deep into the Word of God and as Seniors they leave evermore passionately in love with Christ, knowing that there is still more to learn about the great and awesome God.

Class of 2006, may the Lord continue to mold you into His image and may you be willing to submit to His guidance for all the days of your lives.

Appalachian Bible College

Because Life is for Service

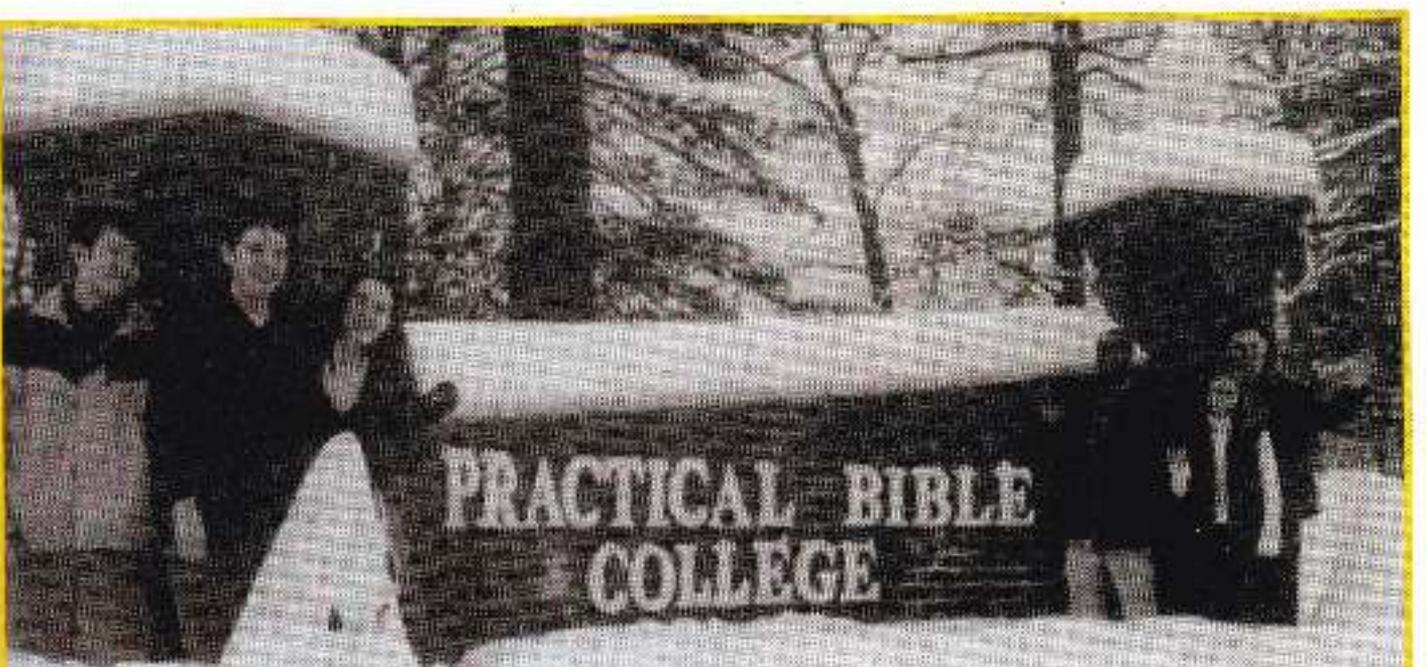

Being served is THE ULTIMATE in life — or is it?
At Appalachian Bible College, we challenge you to a new way of thinking. After all, isn't Jesus the one who said his purpose was not to BE served, but TO serve? No question, being a capable servant is God's will for you as a Christian. Appalachian Bible College will help you realize this plan.

BECAUSE LIFE IS FOR SERVICE.

Amanda Mae Phillips ~ Editor-in-Chief

What a year! I can't believe all of this time has passed by so quickly! It has been so much fun working on this book and producing such a work of art with this staff. We had our ups and downs, our joys and frustrations, but in the end came up with a beautiful product! I will miss this school and the people with whom I have become such close friends. My love and prayers will continue!!!

Jenny Espinoza ~ Writer/Photographer

Yearbook makes me want to vomit! It is actually not that bad! Amanda, thank you for helping me stay sane. It has really been refreshing to see our art on the pages of a book that every student will cherish for many years to come. All of the hard work has paid off. I have truly enjoyed every moment of it! (Good times, good times!)

Jon Robinson ~ Ads. Extrordinaire

I thought that my experience with yearbook was great! I really enjoyed the leadership that I received from Amanda and Jenny. I hope to use those skills for future yearbooking opportunities. I think that we should have gotten paid a begillion dollars for doing all the hard work that we did! Yea for yearbook!

Joe Allotta ~ Caption Specialist

I really liked being on yearbook staff this year. Although it was sometimes difficult being bossed around by my future wife, I have truly enjoyed the experience! I hope everyone enjoys the wonderful captions and feels my heart as they read through this book! Thanks again for the opportunity!

Colophon

The Triquetra was printed by Taylor Publishing Company of (city, State) with a press run of 150 copies. We send Taylor a special thanks for their wonderful assistance. The 80 page book was given to each student in attendance.

All photos were digital. Student and faculty pictures in the people section were provided by OY Thomas Studios.

The entire book was produced on one Compaq Presario computer, one Kyocera Mita printer, and one Epson Perfection 2400 scanner. Programs used were YB!Pro, InDesign, Microsoft Word, Picasa, and Adobe Photoshop.

Thank You

A special thanks goes out to those who helped us publish this year's 2006 Triquetra. This book was made possible because of your many contributions. Thanks to Jonh Partelis who got us started and kept us going throughout the summer. Thanks to all of those who gave us pictures to be used. Thanks to OY Thomas Studios for taking our portraits. To Joel Schmidt, Al Depoutot, and Janet Kuchne for helping us with the editing process. A special thanks also to those who took time to share a portion of their lives with us through biographies and testimonies. And a big thank you to those of you who kept us in your prayers. It was well needed and thankfully, received!

Writing for the yearbook this year was a blast! I am so excited that I had the opportunity to go back to the events of this past year to relive and capture these awesome experiences in words!
